Skills

- Dedicated: I was able to travel and compete this winter while working up to twenty hours a week and taking 14 credits at college. I am willing to sacrifice my social life and income in order for me to focus one-hundred and ten percent on improving my snowboarding talents.
- Healthy: I run and hike religiously in the off season in order to be at my fullest potential when the snowboard season arrives. Additionally, I visit the gym at least three days a week in order to maintain a strong upper body.
- Positive Attitude: What it really comes down to is that there is nothing I enjoy more than snowboarding and I plan to do it as much as possible for the rest of my life. Receiving accolades in the sport only gets me more stoked because I'm getting praised for something that I love doing.
